

Getting Your BOOK PUBLISHED

1

Before you write your first word tell us about your idea

2

PROPOSAL GIVE US A CLEAR IDEA OF YOUR PROJECT

so we can plan, schedule, budget and market your book to maximise its impact on the PM world and make sure it sits within APM's publishing strategy

TELL US ABOUT YOUR BOOK:

Who are your readers?

When do you plan on writing?

What makes your book unique?

What gap in the market does your book fulfil?

5

PRODUCTION

6

PUBLISH

4

Reviewers' comments

Peer review ensures content is robust and independent.

Reviewers may suggest improvements or additions that should be considered before final delivery.

Depending on the length of your manuscript and number of reviewers this process varies in length. This should be taken into consideration if you're aiming to have your book at a specific conference.

Perhaps a book isn't the best way to promote the material

APPROVED with changes
A revise is needed

APPROVED
No changes necessary

3

And begin writing...

Read the APM style guide, the publishing process explained, copyright advice and FAQs for guidance

And when you've finished deliver your completed draft to APM

Perhaps a book isn't the best way to promote the material. We also publish reports and white papers

Tell us a bit more before we can commit to publish

Your proposal fits our publishing strategy

Editorial Panel

Editorial Panel

