| Mr. Lam Wai Pan, Wilson | Full              | Motivation 1). I had humbly served in the HK Branch Volunteer Group for 1 year. My honour and pleasure to learn from the Chair and other experts in the volunteer group and wish to continue. 2). As a APM member, Prince 2 Practitioner and PMP, I wish to continue to contribute to promote the standards and best practices of project management approach of APM to the construction industry in HK, China and Asia Pacific. 3). My knowledge in IT projects, ITIL Expert, Agile and Big Data and BIM hopes to contribute to the volunteer group to promote the best practices of Construction 2.0. Support the industry to be more technologies driven to contribute to the stakeholders, users, professionals, contractors, sub-contractors and suppliers.   | Humble qualities, skills and experience to contribute to Hong Kong branch committee 1). I am a humble, objective and cooperative team member to support the HK Branch Committee. I am also focuses, result oriented and agile to meet the needs of Branch Committee objectives and year plan. 2). I have more than 25 years of experiences as architect, authorized person and project manager. I have experiences in major government and private sector projects. I would hope to promote the standards and best practices of APM to both the public and private sector. 3). I am experienced in IT related projects and now involved in BIM process that can contribute the objectives of Construction 2.0. I am a MAPM, PMP, Prince 2 Practitioner, Agile Practitioner, Certified Big Data Science Professional, ITIL Expert and CIMP. 4). In addition, I am knowledgeable on contractual management and dispute resolution. I am a Fellow Member of HKI Arb and Asian Dispute Resolution Centre. I have knowledge and experiences in arbitration, mediation, adjudication and expert witness. These will support project management delivery, standards and best practices. | I intend to spend about 8-10 hours in my leisure time, weekend and vacation leaves each week to support the volunteer works of APM HK Branch Committee. | I suggest: a). Development of APM (HK) Branch in past 10 years. b). Vision of APM (HK) Branch for Construction 2.0 in 2019/2020 and years beyond. |
| Steve Root              | Full              | I have volunteered for the Committee since 2012 and still passionately believe in promoting the work of APM and professionalism of project management in Hong Kong.  | I have chaired the Branch Committee for the last 4 years and in that time have established many relationships for APM with 3rd parties, including introducing APM as the PM standard to be aspired to within the HK Government. In whatever role I can fulfill for the Committee, I will continue to promote project management as a profession.   | 5 hours   |   |
| Tak Yun WONG Joe        | Fellow            | I am purely self-motivated. Having achieved the Fellowship status in 2017, I have committed to serving the Hong Kong Branch, even firmer than before. I have been the committee member since I joined the APM about 19 years ago. I have also been invigilating the APM exams thereafter. Over the past three years, I have been the treasurer of the local branch. At the outset, I assisted in handling the membership matters and then assisted in organizing the monthly events with the Event Organizers. After attending the events and writing up the event scripts for years, I learn a lot from the speakers and meet more friends in the project management industry. I therefore become more determined to serve the local branch. With a very close relationship with the committee members and the guest members, I wish to continue my committee membership. | I am deeply interested in the project management field. The post graduate academic qualifications in Project Management from the Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors and the University of Reading enable me to think positively about my self-development and career progress in the project management field. I have been an internal Management Consultant with the Hong Kong Government for over two decades before I retired in 2005. After retirement, I conducted consultancy studies in construction and real estate in Hong Kong Polytechnic University. I then joined a contractor firm as a Project Management Adviser for nearly seven years before I started my teaching career in the Construction Industry Council two months ago. I am able to identify key issues and risks on projects. Conflict resolution among stakeholders and handling court cases are my strength. I wish to bring my knowledge and experience to the local branch.   | About five hours per week.  | Nil   |

| Jim Pippin   | Fellow  | To assist the local APM organization as a committee member.   | Director - New Built & Technology - CLP Fellow APM   | Will depend on workload at office. Will do my best to support chapter activities. |      |
| Marcel Ekkel | Full    | Hong Kong is at a turning point of many areas and the transformations require increased maturity levels of project management. Its good to be on the side that influences and contributes to the change.  | Network, time, action, energy  | 1-4   | none |
| Or Siu Hong  | Student | My internship experience at China Resource Land Qianhai Co., Ltd. as an engineer intern provided me with some important skills to work with the professionals in the construction industry. I participated in some stages of construction management, including the testing's of building materials and supervision of the building procedures. I was also invited to attend the construction health and safety assembly, as well as meeting contractors. During the course of the summer vocational holidays for two months, I established a great passion for building management. This internship has consequently convinced me that construction management is my true calling. | Majoring in year 3 Surveying from the Department of Architecture and Civil Engineering, City University of Hong Kong, I am well equipped with essential knowledge and skills to come with this applied position to develop the construction management commissions. It is my desire to develop more advanced automation, BIM and safety construction under construction management. Being a senior student mentor, I also organize some activities for the year one student from the year of 2017 till now. Huge connection with them is developed so as to realize their needs and help them to become independent. | 1-2 time/ month   |      |
