| Stevie Gosling | Associate | I enjoy organising and getting involved in the events to help further support the profession, in addition for my own continued learning about the variety of approaches used across businesses in the South West in tandem with the principles of project management. | I would consider myself a team player and like to come up with and proposed fresh ideas especially in regards to Diversity style events. | As much time as is needed to support what I have committed to do/delivery. | I would just like to thank the team for the previous years and experiences shared on the committee that I have and hopefully will continue to enjoy. |
| Claire Mills | Associate | I have been a committee member for a number of years, initially as the Diversity Rep and now as the Secretary. As this is the most active Branch I think it important to be able to help shape the range of events that we can offer going forward to ensure that we are meeting the needs of our members. Whilst the APM is making significant steps forward, I do feel that Project Controls (my area of expertise, specifically risk management) is still not given the prominence that it deserves. Rather than being a passive bystander, by being on the Committee I feel it gives me a chance to influence change going forward. I am also a passionate advocate of the APM so by being on the Committee it helps to give me more of an insight into the APM to help promote it further | I am a passionate advocate of the APM and over the years have attended numerous events and webinars. As I am a Risk Manager rather than a Project Manager I think I bring a slightly different view to the Committee with more of a Project Control focus. I have worked in a number of different industries (Defence, Aerospace and Nuclear) within the South West and Europe over the last 16 years of a 20 year plus career within PC and Risk. I am organised with good communication skills and have held the role of Branch Secretary for the last 2 years. I have extensive networks within the SW region and the company I work for strongly supports the APM and individual engagement with it. | 2 hours | |

| Nina Hartley | Full | As an APM Chartered Project Professional I can see the value APM provides in helping to raise the profile of our profession and the value it provides our members through networking and CPD opportunities. I feel the best way to ensure the future of our Professional Body and the network it supports is by actively being involved in the branch committee in the area where I live and work. | Over the past 18 years I have managed projects in various disciplines; including IT, Construction, Process Change and Science. I therefore bring a range of practical experience and best practice knowledge to the committee and its members. As the Met Office Head of Profession, I am responsible for setting the organisation's Project Management standards. I will bring my lessons learnt from both roles to help Corporations and Members advance their best practice knowledge and its application, through Committee lead initiatives. | Bruce Phillips | Fellow | I am very keen to continue the work I have been doing for the Branch over the last number of years. The South West has a great membership and contribution and has consistently delivered excellent events and outputs which I have managed to help to create. I want to continue this in the forthcoming year and I also want to help provide new insights and thoughts to our membership based upon my wide and deep experience in project management. The PM Challenge has now excelled and the student of the year award is taking off this year. There are also many other activities that I contribute to that will need my input and support. Fundamentally, I have great belief and commitment to the project profession and I want to see this mature in our region for the benefit of everyone. | I have lots of experience working in projects and programmes over several domains including Defence, Infrastructure and information technology. I have worked as a project manager, programme manager, PMO manager and benefits manager over many years so have lots of knowledge and experience that I can feed back in to the APM network. Importantly, I also have excellent interpersonal skills which are essential to bring others in to new project scenarios with APM. My ability to influence, communicate and negotiate where necessary are perhaps my strongest qualities. I have managed the APM SWWE PM Challenge for the last 5 years, I have supported all Newcomer events and I continue to develop a network of HEIs in our region with a range of prominent Universities. Fundamentally, I have lots of experience which I can plough back in to the APM network for the benefit of our existing and future wide membership. | Two hours per week, sometimes more depending upon Branch activities and other work commitments. | None. |
