(maximum 150 words)	What qualities, skills and experience do you think you'll bring to the APM People SIG committee? (maximum 150 words)	How much time do you anticipate being able to spend on SIG activities in an average week?
Fran	Bodley-Scott	Associate	I have been actively supporting the SIG for several years both informally as an interested volunteer, and formally as a member of the committee. I was seconded back onto the committee for the past financial year and would like to continue working with the team.	I am an active member of the SIG, leading the Stakeholder Engagement Focus Group; I have represented the SIG at APM conferences and Branch events; I help to facilitate the operations of the SIG, sharing knowledge, collaborating with APM staff and raising awareness of the SIG across the APM membership.	2 hours on average although that varies with work commitments
Ian	Cribbes	Full	Having served on the committee for the last two years, and held the post of secretary for the past six months I am keen to see the work of the People SIG continue to progress.	Keen, enthusiastic.	3 - 5 hours
Lucinda	Finney	Associate	In 2017 I spoke at the WiPM conference and then the main APM Conference. In 2018 I led a workstream in the 2018 APM on Empowerment. I felt the experience was very rewarding and many PMs were interested in personal,	16 year's as an Army Officer in the Educational & Training Services, a Masters in Design of Information Systems, an MBE for the transformation of Learning in the British Army, plus a career at Thales UK as a PM, L&D	2 hours to 0.5 day

			team and leadership development. I have a lot to give in this field and genuinely would like to be part of developing the leadership capability of PMs in the UK. I feel I would add value to the committee as it plans events and communications in the coming year.	consultant, Leadership Development consultant and Team coach plus real experience as a PM in many Defence Projects places me well to provide sound advice and guidance to the PM community. I also have a range of psychometric qualifications and am interested in Mental Toughness and Resilience - skills definitely needed by today's PM. I also have an extensive network of colleagues and contacts to draw on to help grow the influence of the APM and support APM events and activities
Gayle	Howard	Associate	I am an existing member of the People SIG committee, albeit relatively new to the team, and would like the opportunity to get more involved and add value.	I have 25+ years experience of project &amp; programme management. I am a trained Coach and have many years experience in leadership roles. I have also worked in operational management roles and have carried out a Coaching &amp; development Management role in which I was responsible for leading teams of coaches, business trainers and management trainers.	2-3 hours

Russel	Jamieson	Fellow	As a past chair of the SIG I re-engaged with the SIG during the last 12 months in an advisory and mentorship role following the sudden withdrawal by my successor. I remain keen to provide this support to the current committee whilst contributing myself to its success	* Leadership * Knowledge * Resilience * Networking * Calm * Level-headed As previous chair of the SIG since its 'resurrection' I have made many good contacts and established relationships with folks outside of the SIG as well as with the existing committee. I was asked to re-join the committee during the last 12 months to support and mentor the new chair as well as the overall committee which I was pleased to do	All that is required to ensure the SIG moves forward promoting itself through the APM and its goals
Michelle	Littlemore	Associate	I am interested in driving forward the importance of people in projects as this can be a very under valued area in some industries	I am an academic and Northumbria University and I teach on the MSc Project Management Programme. My research area is strongly rooted in the management of people. More specifically in the psychological, emotional, behavioural side.	1-2 hour a week on average as I also have North East committee branch commitments
Tim	Lyons	Fellow	I have skills in communication (ex-broadcaster) and large project management (Crossrail) and have strong interests in the SIG's core areas of expertise.	Communications (presentation, NLP-based analysis); Motivation; 40 years as a front-line project manager;	1 - 2 hours
Annie	Maingard	Full	I have been with the People SIG group for around two years now and found participation to have both enhanced my	I have worked in many sectors as a PM and I am really interested in communication and leadership and the	I always put aside an hour a week for the group, and try to attend at least one event a year.

I feel I can bring my multi-sector experience to this theme. I also represent those that perhaps work part time and balance family life with work and always think we need more of that in the sector!
Jackie	McClintock	Associate	I am passionate about training and development and would like to use my skills to help the development of the profession. In my day job my focus is on portfolio and programs. I would like the opportunity to help mature program training and development with the APM. The opportunity to network and bring best practice back into a large organisation like Sellafield Ltd is invaluable.	I am a Chartered Fellow of the CIPD and my skills set is education , training and development. I have worked in the nuclear industry for over 30 years and have access to a wide network of project professionals. My area of focus is currently programmes and portfolios and I am working closely with my colleagues in projects to align training and development opportunities. Outside of work I am an enterprise advisor for a local secondary school who acts as a partner on strategic careers development. My work is very people centric and I enjoy collaborating with like minded professionals who aim to drive standards and create a positive working environment.	2-3 hours
