

First name:	Surname:	What is your membership level?	Brief overview of your background and experience as a Governance professional: (maximum 150 words)	What motivated you to put yourself forward for election to the APM Governance SIG committee? (maximum 150 words)	What qualities, skills and experience do you think you'll bring to the APM Governance SIG committee? (maximum 150 words)	How much time do you anticipate being able to spend on SIG activities in an average week?
John	Caton	Full	Having been a PM consultant since 1997 I was a founder member of the Governance SIG in 2003 and have played a full part in its development.	I have been a GovSIG committee member for some years and would like to continue my work.	I became a project management professional in 1987, a consultant in 1997 and a member of the SIG in 2003. I have promoted the profession to the best of my ability, including being the UK interviewer for the GovSIG Study Tour.	I am now retired and expect to give as much time as the role requires.
Peter	Christodoulou	Associate	Work in governance and compliance	Would like to do more work with SIG	APM	2-4 hours
Carol	Deveney	Associate	I have worked in projects with a specific remit for governance for over 20 years. I have undertaken governance roles on small projects with cocktail funding and multi billion portfolios. I have worked in a varieties of industry settings and a mixture of public, private and third sectors environments.	I have always been involved in or used the guides produced by the SIG in the past. I believe that it is essential to seek out other experiences, contexts, good practices and lessons from others. The work of the SIG provides that for members which is a valuable part of the association's work.	Whilst I have extensive experience working in governance I believe it is my ability to work with others which will be the most valuable quality I will bring, I have undertaken roles in governance as a Sponsor and Senior Sponsor on major projects. More recently I have held executive roles as Head of Sponsorship and Vice President on multi billion portfolio	4 with specific accountability for governance and assurance.

Paul	Evans	Fellow	As an experienced project and programme manager I have both governed and been governed on a wide range of projects. This has provided me with a good understanding of what is good governance and where poor governance can detrimentally affect projects.	I am keen to share my experience of governance to help define and set the standards for governance. This will be my second stint on the committee and I am keen on continuing this role.	I am currently on the APM Governance SIG Committee and will continue to serve in bringing insight to the discussions and producing papers on governance to stimulate thought.	I expect to be able to spend 2-3 hours a week on SIG activities
Roger	Garrini	Fellow	Have been a member of the committee for time now and wish to continue. Co-author of the Directing Agile Change	I believe good governance is the key to successful projects and want the message to spread	Committee member for	2-3
Catherine	Hallett	Full	I have been an engineer and a project professional for my entire career. I joined the APM in 2000 and I have developed professionally with them ever since. I am currently the Sponsorship Director for a £6bn portfolio at Highways England, accountable for the governance, assurance and investment across the government's Road Investment Strategy.	I am an active member of the APM and joined the Governance SIG in 2018. Since then we have taken forward some exciting work around Sponsorship and also worked closely with the Portfolio SIG. The APM Golden Thread has started to expose the positive impact project management has on the economy and governance is key to this. Recent problems with high profile projects such as Crossrail has also thrown a light on the impact of poor	I am a registered Project Professional with over 20 years' experience in projects management and with the APM. The last 5 years of my career has been specifically around setting up various sponsorship functions and teams in a number of organisations. I have experience in organisations with vastly different degrees of maturity in governance and this gives me a perspective on what works well and where. I have also been supporting and working for the APM for many	On average a couple of hours. I travel a lot for work but as governance is my core job I am able to combine activities governance. There is a lot of potential in this exciting, developing area and I would like to be part of the organisation leading this.	year, primarily as part of the membership Panel but also on the RPP and Certificated Pilots and I'm keen to ensure governance professionals take there place in the world of Chartership

Andy	Murray	Full	I am a Partner at RSM UK and I'm the national Head of the Change practice and the national Head of Infrastructure sector. Of particular interest for me is the area of project/programme governance and assurance. I am a Chartered Director, a Fellow of the Institute of Directors (IOD) and a member of the Association For Project Management (APM). I have been a member of the Governance SIG's committee for 7+ years. I have authored a number of publications such as PRINCE2, P3M3 and IPA's Routemap.	I have been a member of the Governance SIG committee for some time and enjoy the outreach and development work we undertake. I have a passion for better governance both at corporate level and at project/programme level and believe it is the one factor that can have the biggest influence on project success.	I have worked in project/programme management for 30 years across a diverse range of organisations (public/private/charity) in the UK and internationally. This diverse experience enables me to bring a wide range of perspectives to the governance debate. I have also worked on numerous guides/publications and understand how they it together and relate to governance.	2 hours per week on average.
Obiora	Ozonzeadi	Full	I have worked as a project development manager for Network Rail's Thameslink Programme where I was in charge of GRIP (NR's framework for projects), Stage Gate	I have been part of the Governance SIG committee in the past, but took a break few years ago on the arrival of	Collaborative mind-set, stakeholder management, analytical and problem solving skills	Average of 1 hour per week, more may be spent for events preparations,

			Reviews and Reporting. I have also worked as Associate Sponsor helping to deliver the project's outcomes, managing stakeholders, preparing funding applications and supporting the change management, scope, requirement processes. I am currently managing the Thameslink closeout making sure the client has the assurance that what was delivered met the set expectations and the benefits are realised.			hosting, presentations etc depending on demand of the SIG.
Martin	Samphire	Fellow	I am a Fellow of the APM and am an experienced programme director, portfolio manager, and management consultant having worked cross sector for over 40 years. I run my own consultancy, 3pmXL Ltd, that works to deliver and improve transformational outcomes together with its clients using pragmatic change, project, programme and portfolio management approaches. I particularly focus on	I have been an APM member since 1986. My objective (originally as now) in getting involved with APM was to share learning with fellow minded professionals and shape the future of good governance practice. Additionally, I have a desire to influence people outside the traditional PM community (e.g. sponsors and Board members) to adopt good governance and sponsorship practices to achieve outcomes in organisations. I have contributed to the development of the	I bring a range of core and relevant skills and experience to the SIG – company board experience (business leadership - director of three previous consultancies, as well as now owner director), governance, business transformation, change management, project / programme / portfolio management, sponsorship, Agile. Experience of range of sectors and project types – capital, aerospace, construction, IT, HR, organisational, retail, M&A. Hence, I bring leadership, 3PM content and	2-10 hours

		governance, sponsorship, portfolio management and the role and accountability of the organisation executives. I have an MSc in programme and project management from Cranfield, am the current Chairman of the APM Governance SIG and have been a committee member of the APM Portfolio Management SIG previously. I am a member of the Institute of Directors. A mechanical engineer by training my early career has included significant years as PM with Foster Wheeler, director with The Nichols Group, Impact Plus, Hitachi Consulting and 3pmXL. I have led teams engaged in major change, P3M capability improvement programmes and advised clients on major transformational change programmes in diverse sectors – e.g. construction, defence, police, financial services, utilities, oil & gas, telecoms.	APM and thought leadership in several ways: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Editorial Board member of Project Magazine for a period in the 1990s• Founder member of the Governance SIG (Gov SIG) in 2003 and former committee member of the Portfolio Management SIG• Authored and contributed to the SIG publications and SIG development• Advisory panel member for the APM 2015 Factors in Project Success research publication• Member of the original APM Agile Project Management working group• Delivered presentations, training events and workshops at APM, IPMA, China PM Association and IoD conferences• Published articles in Project magazine and blogs on the APM website.	organisational skills to the committee as well as the energy to drive progress and results from our investment of, what after all is, a voluntary effort. I am familiar with the journey that the SIG has had to date and am keen to continue to make an impact working with fellow committee members. My desire is to enhance the learning and capabilities of the APM members, but also to influence senior executives and sponsors that sit outside the traditional APM community – and have the greatest impact on the successful delivery of project outcomes, in my view.
--	--	---	---	--	--

Amerjit	Walia	Fellow	As a HR Professional I had a lot of exposure to governance activity as well as sitting on governance boards for charities. I still advise and provide training for good governance.	Been a member of the SIG previously	I'm all about people delivering projects, behaviours, role responsibility and ethical stances are key to good governance. I bring the peoples perspective	Alot more than this year
Richard	Zavitz	Associate	Since 2014, I have worked as a Project Sponsor for London Underground's multi-billion pound capital investment programme to increase capacity, provide step-free access and improve the passenger experience within central London. As part of my role, I am responsible for governance of the project and chairing gate reviews. As an example: for the Tottenham Hale station capacity upgrade (project cost: £30m; status: in delivery) I wrote the board paper to seek full project authority from the Commissioner and planned and chaired gate review meetings to confirm readiness of project to progress between design and delivery stages. Both of these	My interest in joining the Governance SIG is to develop further my knowledge and share my experiences from TfL. Specifically I am interested in approaching the discussions from the position of Sponsor. I understand that the current priority of the committee is to engage a wide range of organisations via a survey to learn about their approach to Sponsorship. I am interested to contribute to this exercise and join in the discussion with my experiences as a Project Sponsor. TfL has a relatively mature approach to Sponsorship so I am interested to learn about the different approaches both in Public and Private organisations and within different scales of change activities.	I have a strong foundation in what it means to be a sponsor and how the sponsor needs to both lead and contribute to the project in conjunction with the project team. This experience would serve the committee when developing the engagement material for the survey on sponsorship models. A big component of my role at TfL is stakeholder management and engagement across all levels of the organisation. My confidence when engaging with people will serve the committee by building meaningful relationships with the other members and when carrying out the surveys with a wide range of organisations. I have also demonstrated excellent oral and written skills from leading discussions with internal and external stakeholders and have excellent analytical and quantitative abilities.	I am flexible as appropriate and would expect 1 to 2 hours per week.

		required engagement with the project team to agree an approach and the information required. My interest in joining the Governance SIG is to develop further my knowledge and share my experiences from TfL. Specifically I am interested in approaching the discussions from the position of Sponsor.		This would serve the committee when analysing the results of the surveys, drawing evidence-based conclusions and communicating the recommendations.
--	--	--	--	--	--