Supporting statement from nomination process of the elected committee members 2021/2022

Full name	What motivated you to put yourself forward for election to the Branch committee? (maximum 150 words)	What qualities, skills and experience do you think you'll bring to the Branch committee? (maximum 150 words)	If you volunteered last year with the APM what was your best achievement/highlight?
Glyn Jenkins	I have been a member of the committee for the last 5 years and have been actively involved in events and presenting the APM to external bodies.	I am a Chartered Project Professional who is an active project manager working on a portfolio of complex projects. I am committed to supporting the development of the APM as the leading body in the project management profession.	Being able to continue to facilitate the activities of the North East committee during the pandemic.
Michael Kelly	To continue to collaborate with committed, enthusiastic and likeminded people to promote the APM and share the benefits that excellent project management skills, techniques and processes can provide to all projects.	40years in the construction industry (20yrs as PM) with a proven track record working on numerous projects in numerous sectors for numerous clients.	Arranging collaborative events with other organisations
Anita Lall	CPD, learning and career progression	Organising events, affiliation to Women in Nuclear	getting to know the committee and their interests and skills
Kevin Laverty	As an enthusiastic project management professional who has recently returned home full time to my native north east, I would like the opportunity to contribute something from my experiences to my local branch.	A broad range of experience in the management of large multidisciplinary capital projects in offshore oil and gas and maritime sectors, along with experience in business process re-engineering projects.

David McDonagh	I thoroughly enjoy engaging and having conversations with likeminded professionals which in turn enables a sense of PM community within our region.	Construction, Infrastructure, Nuclear, Defence, Project/Programme Management	Keeping the team together during COVID.
Hugo Minney	I live in the North East and have seen great results through branch activity and I want to continue to contribute	Wide experience of volunteering and contribution, and of project management and event organising	Highly Commended for Volunteer Awards for the Friday Drop-ins
Manu Ramegowda	Within our School of Computing, Engineering and Digital Technology, we have no involvement with project management professional body. I like to play a key role to bridge the APM and Teesside University for Project Management activities.	I bring effective communication, collaborative team work, networking and Risk Management expertise(quantitative). As a Mechanical Engineer and teaching and Course Leader in Project Management more 10+ years in Higher Education, I believe I can be a valuable member of NE branch.
David Stephenson	I've been lucky enough to meet a fantastic bunch of likeminded individuals from the NE Branch last year, all of which have a passion for P3M and its multifaceted topics. My motivation comes from both a desire to progress the profession but also to continue to make such strides with the NE Branch Committee.	I have over 5 years strict P3M experience taken from a diverse range of projects that have resulted in a breadth of knowledge gained in project management. I often find a way to encourage and motivate others for desired results, holding regular internal CPD sessions, I like to mentor/coach the next generation of eager learners. I'm optimistic and inquisitive which means I like to keep at the forefront of technological advances that ensure topics remaining engaging and apt.	My first experience with the APM was during the impact of COVID restrictions, as such no face-to-face events occurred, but I am organising a Construction Law Webinar for the NE Branch. My highlight is attending, promoting and engaging in a wide range of committee meetings and online events - endorsing and advocating the APM and profession generally.
